

Quick Tour - The International Cancer Control Leadership Forum Group

There are some features you should know about. This Tour will show you important features on the dashboard and Forum Group.

Your Dashboard

Your dashboard is your personal account. It shows all the features you can use as a member of the NCI Portal. All the boxes show different services. You can grab these boxes and move them around. The two most useful ones are “My Groups” and “My Projects.” Join our group to discuss with your colleagues, access faculty, and find relevant resources. In My Projects we will create a project for each country team to share country specific updates, and then we will do our action planning and follow-up together on the project.

The screenshot displays the NCI HUB dashboard for a user named Tulika2 Singh. The header includes the NCI HUB logo, a navigation bar with links to DISCOVER, COMMUNITY, ABOUT, and SUPPORT, and a search bar. The user's profile information, including a name and email address, is shown in the top right corner. The main content area is divided into three columns. The left column contains a sidebar with a user profile picture and a list of navigation options: Dashboard, Profile, Account, Blog, Collections (with a count of 1), and Contributions. The middle column, titled 'My To Do Items', shows a section for 'Assigned' items with the message 'No items found.' The right column, titled 'My Groups', shows a list of groups with a red checkmark next to the 'International Cancer Control Leadership Forum Group'. The 'My Projects' column shows a message 'You have no projects at this time.' and a red checkmark next to it. The 'My Groups' and 'My Projects' sections have a '+ New Group' and '+ New Project' button respectively. The 'My Groups' section also has a '+ Add Modules' button.

Your Dashboard (the left side bar with tabs)

On this side you have:

- Your profile and account – this will help you edit and update your personal information and settings for your account
- Collections is like a folder of resources. You can come to the group, and save resources. All the resources you save will show up in your collections.
- Messages – this is like sending and receiving emails. You can send private messages to other members (including faculty and other participants)
- The Groups and Projects – are in boxes as well as on the side bar. It is the same thing.

Our Leadership Forum Group

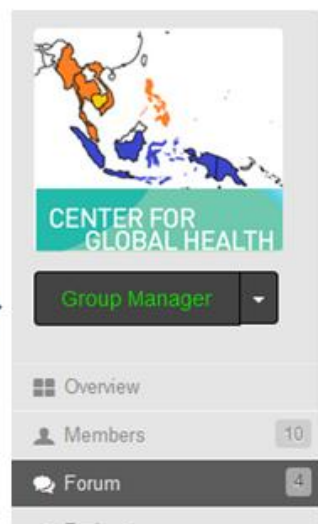

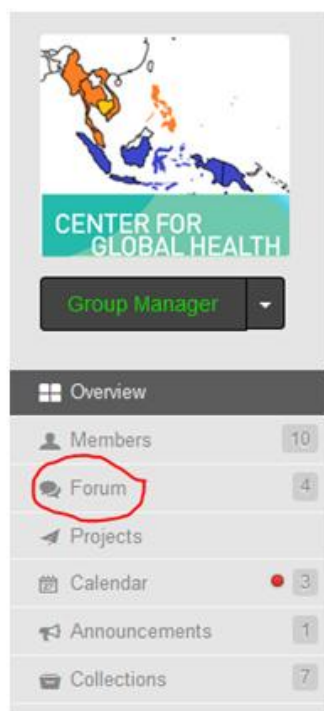

Our Group has an overview page, which explains the purpose of the group. On the left side in the grey color, there are several important services. In the Forum tab, you can participate in discussions. The Collections tab is for resources – documents and tools are stored in different folders and you can access them all. You can download materials or store them on your accounting by clicking “collect”. In the Projects tab, you can start a project with the whole group. There is also a calendar, a list of members, and a section for announcements.

The screenshot displays the user interface of the International Cancer Control Leadership Forum Group. The top navigation bar includes links for DISCOVER, COMMUNITY, ABOUT, and SUPPORT, along with a search bar. The breadcrumb trail indicates the current location: Home / Groups / International Cancer Control Leadership Forum Group.

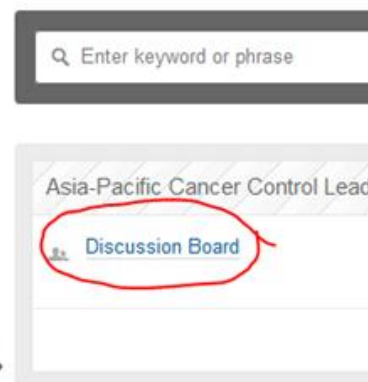

The left sidebar, highlighted with a red outline, contains a menu with the following items:

- Overview
- Members (2)
- Forum (4)
- Projects
- Calendar (3)
- Announcements (1)
- Collections (7)

The main content area features the group's title, "International Cancer Control Leadership Forum Group", and an "Overview" section with tags: cancer control planning, Global cancer research, International Cancer Control, leadership forum, and Partnership. Below this is the "ABOUT THE GROUP" section, which includes a welcome message and a description of the group's purpose. At the bottom, there are three icons labeled "Discuss", "Collaborate", and "Share".
